

University Life

Cultural Amenities Both Athens and UGA have excellent facilities capable of hosting a wide variety of cultural attractions. The Classic Center and the Morton Theatre serve as venues for traveling company productions of Broadway plays and musicals. UGA's Performing and Visual Arts Complex includes a Performing Arts Center, the Georgia Museum of Art, the Hugh Hodgson School of Music and the Lamar Dodd School of Art. The Performing Arts Center is the site of performances by international artists and the world's finest symphony orchestras, as well as solo recitals and chamber music. The newly renovated Fine Arts Theatre is the venue for original productions, opera and dance.

Sporting Events The University of Georgia offers a wide selection of Division I-A intercollegiate athletics for men and women. The University is a member of the Southeastern Conference (SEC) of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA). Sports teams at the University have earned 38 national championships. Intramural & Sport Clubs The University of Georgia offers a variety of intramural sports for undergraduate and graduate students including outdoor and indoor soccer, basketball, flag football, volleyball, tennis and a 5K race. The club sports offered by the University include cycling, equestrian, lacrosse, rowing, rugby, sailing, running, sky diving, fencing, triathlon and water polo. For more information about intramural and club sports, please visit www.recsports.uga.edu/

Recreational Opportunities The Ramsey Student Center for Physical Activities offers amenities ranging from racquetball, weight training, swimming and basketball to rock climbing and indoor soccer. Outdoor sporting facilities include the Recreation Sports Complex with more than 35 acres of baseball, soccer and playing fields, tennis courts and running trails. The University golf course and practice facility are considered among the best in the state. Lake Herrick, complete with a sandy beach area and pavilion, and the beautiful wooded Oconee Forest Park provide a natural setting for many outdoor recreational activities.

Housing Graduate students may choose to live in either residence halls or in individual apartments on campus. University housing is also available to students with spouses and/or children. Once admitted to the University, applicants should apply for on-campus housing as far in advance of their projected enrollment date as possible. In addition, affordable off-campus housing is readily available throughout the Athens-Clarke County area.

Transportation The Campus Transit System, funded by a transportation fee paid by all students each semester, provides bus service on a no-fare basis. The buses run on a regular schedule to all parts of the campus and adjacent residential areas. The city of Athens and the University of Georgia have an arrangement that permits students to ride any Athens Transit System bus without charge upon presentation of a UGA identification card. Parking permits are sold separately and prices vary depending on lot location. All students are allowed to register cars on campus.
